You have 40 minutes to write your composition.

The following is the beginning of a composition. Write it in your own words making it as interesting as possible.

When I reached school that morning, I was not surprised to find Mr. Omondi in class. I had taken a little longer than usual preparing and I knew I was late for the remedial lesson. I knocked at the door and waited for the response .....